We recognize that lasting development must include those who are to be the direct beneficiaries of that development.

We utilize grants to support and partner with civil society organizations, community development groups, and local governments to build sustainable outcomes that address the most pressing needs of local populations.

We work with grantees to ensure success through organizational development and learning opportunities, technical support tailored to the scope of the grant, and grants management support.

Guiding Principles for Grant Making and Management

1. Adherence to Do No Harm and our Conflict Sensitivity Principles
2. Identifying the right mix of grantmaking mechanisms for the program and context
3. Working closely with USG and Grantees for successful achievement of grant objectives
4. Balancing calculated risk in grant design while ensuring compliance
